

New “Virtual Volunteer” Program

Keeping a safe distance and delivering Service

On behalf of the Board of Directors and the Office Team, Na Hoaloha is grateful for our dedicated volunteers and the participants who receive services. Please be reminded that this is a situation when we need to take the best care of each other.

We have suspended our person-to-person contact services such as escorted transportation for non-essential medical appointments, friendly visits and in-home respite volunteer caregiver visits until further notice. We can lessen the effects of this virus in our community and safeguard the most vulnerable segment of the public by using the recommended precautions and using good common sense.

Na Hoaloha has initiated a “Virtual Volunteer” program. While participants are self-isolating and keeping a safe distance from personal contact, they can find comfort in knowing they are not forgotten when a caring volunteer calls to check-in on how they are doing, listen to their concerns, offer resource information and inquire on their immediate needs for food, water, essential supplies and medications.

If you need services:

If you are a person over 65 years old, live alone, have no family or close friends assisting you, and have limited access for retrieving essential food, supplies or medications, you can enroll in the Na Hoaloha “Virtual Volunteer” program for assistance with our volunteer delivery.

Call (808) 249-2545 to speak to a Na Hoaloha Team member to learn more about services.

If you want to Volunteer:

If you are interested in taking part in this Volunteer Partnering program, visit our website at www.nahoaloha.org and fill out the enrollment forms. There are many ways you can assist kupuna during this critical time for community working together to get through this temporary pandemic situation. Become part of the solution to share ALOHA!
